

Attorney Edna McLain Joins Amundsen Davis's Health Care Practice Group

July 2019

We are pleased to welcome Edna McLain to our Chicago office as a partner in our Health Care Practice Group. In her 17 years of practicing law, Edna has developed a practical and pragmatic approach to resolving cases.

Edna defends hospitals, physicians, nurses and oral surgeons in complex medical negligence cases. She works with clients to coordinate discovery responses, prepares clients for depositions, negotiates settlements, prepares and argues motions, and manages trial preparation. She has tried multiple medical negligence cases to defense verdicts and has successfully argued an appeal before the Illinois Second District Appellate Court.
