

Amundsen Davis Announces Office Relocation to Accommodate Growth and Enhance Client Service

Firm News
June 6, 2024

We are excited to announce the relocation of our St. Louis office to the prestigious Centene Plaza, effective July 1, 2024. This move to a larger and more prominent space compliments the growth in attorneys the St. Louis office has seen in recent months and underscores our commitment to providing exceptional service to our clients and a modern, efficient workspace for our team.

"The move to Centene Plaza represents a significant step forward for Amundsen Davis," said Daniel Peters, the firm's St. Louis managing partner. "The relocation not only highlights the firm's growth but also reflects its strategic vision for the future. We are dedicated to creating a workspace that not only meets the needs of our clients but also supports the well-being and productivity of our team."

Centene Plaza, a LEED-certified building, is designed for the future of work with cutting-edge architectural achievements in sustainability, technology and engineering. The new office will offer enhanced amenities, including world-class fitness facilities and terrace dining, ensuring a superior working environment. Located in the heart of downtown Clayton, the building provides unparalleled access to St. Louis' top restaurants, hotels and businesses. The 27-story, free-standing Class A office building epitomizes innovation and modernity, aligning perfectly with our firm's values and goals.
