

Amundsen Davis's Intellectual Property Team and Attorney Joseph Heino Recognized by Chambers USA for 2023

Firm News
June 1, 2023

Joe Heino has been recognized by Chambers USA in the area of Intellectual Property Law for the tenth consecutive year. Joe is among an elite group of attorneys selected as 'Leaders in their Field' and was featured in the Chambers USA Legal Guide 2023 edition.

Joe is experienced in all areas of intellectual property law ("IP"), including patent, trademark, copyright, and trade secret law, as well as licensing and franchising. He represents a wide range of clients in the local, regional and national manufacturing, software development, medical provider, and service sectors. As an IP risk manager and monetizer, Joe helps businesses build fences around their IP, allowing them to maintain technological and market advantages over their competitors throughout the world and in cyberspace.

Through Chambers USA, Joe is being recognized for his extensive experience handling intricate IP matters. Numerous clients have shared their experience working with Joe, and offered feedback such as, "He is by far the finest lawyer I have ever known or dealt with." and "He gives you a wide scenario of possible outcomes."

Additionally, Amundsen Davis's Intellectual Property Service Group was recognized for its expertise in all aspects of intellectual property law, in particular infringement litigation, prosecution and portfolio management and enforcement. Our Intellectual Property Service Group represents clients on all aspects of IP including patents, trademarks, copyrights, and trade secrets. Our IP attorneys are committed to helping our clients throughout the IP process from application for protection to enforcement of rights to defense of infringement claims. Our attorneys are well versed in both the legal and technical aspects of IP. Those technical areas cover a wide range of engineering, scientific, computer and medical principles as well as business methods.
