

Heather Bailey and The Center for Values-Driven Leadership Partner for Women in Leadership Book List

Center for Values-Driven Leadership
November 20, 2017

The Center for Value-Driven Leadership annually publishes a list of recommended reading for leaders looking to build flourishing, values-driven organizations. This year, Heather Bailey was selected to contribute to the book list, recommending books that have shaped the way she leads or the way she thinks.

For her book of choice, "On Point" by Pam Borton, Heather said "I know Pam and have seen her speak. She's amazing. Pam's book is not only inspirational but it has changed the way I manage my staff and work with my colleagues. It is an easy read but with much power behind Pam's words and guidance."
