

Amundsen Davis Hosts a Celebration of Hispanic Heritage Month

October 5, 2017

Amundsen Davis proudly embraces the diverse perspectives and experiences of different ethnic, religious, racial, gender and socioeconomic groups that exist within the legal profession. To that end, our Committee for Diversity and Inclusion was pleased to host an event in honor of Hispanic Heritage Month.

On October 5, 2017, clients, friends joined Amundsen Davis's attorneys and staff for food, drinks, and networking at Moe's Cantina in Chicago in celebration of Hispanic Heritage Month. The event featured a speech from special guest of honor, Judge Jesse Reyes, Appellate First District Court, 5th Division. Our Hispanic Heritage Month event served as not only as a celebration of heritage and culture, but to recognize the important presence of Hispanic and Latino Americans, and their contributions to our country, our community, and Amundsen Davis.
