May 2021

We are excited to share the release of an updated Transportation & Logistics Compendium of Law from USLAW.

The Transportation and Logistics Compendium is a convenient, state-by-state reference, containing many of the most common, substantive, and procedural issues impacting the transportation industry and derivative negligence claims in each state.

Written by USLAW member attorneys, including members of our transportation team for both Illinois and Indiana, the compendium addresses various ways the specific state handles issues such as negligent hiring and supervision in commercial transportation and utilizes local knowledge in each of the jurisdictions in which USLAW firms practice.

To view the full list of USLAW compendia visit the USLAW website.
