

ESPN Interviews Luke Fedlam on College Basketball Parents Association

Media Mention

ESPN

November 24, 2020

ESPN interviewed Luke Fedlam for the article, "College Basketball Parents Association formed to advocate for players, educate parents," which focused on the announcement of the College Basketball Parents Association (CBPA). CBPA is a new organization created to educate college basketball parents in the fast-changing area of NCAA basketball and name, image and likeness rules.

You can read the full article on the ESPN website.

PROFESSIONALS

Luke A. Fedlam
Partner

RELATED SERVICES

Entertainment, Sports &
Media