

Jeff Risch Quoted in Chicago Tribune Article, “How Will the Workplace Change Under Trump? Here Are a Few Clues, Issues”

Media Mention

Chicago Tribune

January 3, 2017

Jeff Risch was quoted in a recent Chicago Tribune article which discusses anticipated workplace changes under President-elect Donald Trump's administration. Issues mentioned in the article include: E-Verify, the quickie union election rule, the joint employer standard, mandatory arbitration agreements, the EEOC pay reporting rule and the overtime rule. Jeff Risch weighs in on joint employer standards saying, “I would be close to shocked if the joint employer guidance and the emphasis on joint employers from the administrative standpoint isn't completely walked backwards.”

The full article can be found on the Chicago Tribune website.

PROFESSIONALS

Jeffrey A. Risch
Partner

RELATED SERVICES

Employment Advice &
Counsel

Government Regulation,
Audit & Compliance

Labor, Employment &
Immigration