November 14, 2024

Wisconsin Super Lawyers magazine launched in 2005, and they recently celebrated their 20th anniversary by talking with five attorneys who have been listed in all 20 years to reflect on the ups and downs.

Kathy Nusslock, a top rated business litigation lawyer, discusses her beginnings as an attorney and what she's seen in the industry, including the advances in technology and changes in culture. She also reminisces on a stand out memory from early in her career. When asked what advice she would give the next generation of attorneys, she encourages them to "Get involved, whether it's the bar association, a nonprofit, or any organization where you're meeting people and making connections. The more connections you develop, the more it develops your growth as an attorney."
