September/ October 2025

Joey Wright's article, "The Growth of AI in Hiring," was published in the September/October edition of Hoosier Banker.

The article discusses how financial institutions can address risks and increase productivity when using AI in the hiring process. Joey states, "... AI tools are beginning to play a central role in how companies identify and evaluate job candidates. ... hiring managers must be prepared to answer: How can our financial institution legally and ethically make AI work in our hiring processes?"
