The Firm's Newest Of Counsel:

John W. Kuzin, a member of the Firm's, and Business & Finance practices, has experience in a broad range of Federal Communications Commission wireless and wireline matters, including rulemakings, enforcement proceedings and equipment authorization issues. He litigates commercial disputes involving state-of-the-art technology and negotiates complex, technical commercial agreements. Prior to attending New York University School of Law and joining Wiley Rein in 1999, Mr. Kuzin spent six years as a Senior Systems Engineer and Project Manager for Bell Communications Research where he drafted telecommunications system requirements and analyzed system compliance.

Christopher M. Mills, a resident in the Firm's Northern Virginia office, advises and counsels clients in a range of matters, including , construction, corporate, government contracts, intellectual property, licensing and litigation. He is a former federal employee with several years experience in design and construction project management, including experience as a contracting officer's representative. Mr. Mills graduated with honors from the George Washington University School of Law, where he was a member of The George Washington Law Review.

Jessica N. Rosenthal handles transactional work, with a focus on broadcast transactions. As an associate in the Firm's Business & Finance and Communications practices, she has assisted in hundreds of acquisitions and sales of radio and television stations for clients ranging from small broadcasters to large broadcast groups. Ms. Rosenthal joined Wiley Rein in 1999 and was a summer associate at the Firm while attending George Washington University Law School.

Robert J. Scheffel, a member of the Firm's Intellectual Property group, has experience in patent, trademark and copyright litigation, prosecution and counseling, with an emphasis in chemical and pharmaceutical technologies. He was actively involved in Wiley Rein's victory on behalf of client Mylan Laboratories Inc. in a patent dispute with Johnson & Johnson over its Oxybutynin products. After receiving his J.D. from the Franklin Pierce Law Center, Mr. Scheffel served as a Law Clerk for the Honorable Arthur J. Gajarsa of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.

Gary P. Seligman counsels and represents insurers in complex disputes arising under directors and officers and other professional liability coverages at the trial and appellate court levels. Shortly after joining the Firm in 1999, Mr. Seligman took a year hiatus to serve as a Law Clerk for Judge Ellsworth A. Van Graafeiland of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit. Mr. Seligman graduated magna cum laude from Washington and Lee University School of Law and was a Wiley Rein summer associate in 1998.
