

PRESS RELEASE

Intellectual Property Partner David E. Weslow Joins Wiley Rein

January 13, 2011

Wiley Rein LLP is pleased to announce the expansion of its Intellectual Property Practice with the addition of new partner David E. Weslow. A former software and web developer, Mr. Weslow regularly handles cutting-edge issues involving law and technology. He has a broad practice that includes litigating, prosecuting and licensing of trademarks and copyrights, and has represented parties in record setting domain name transactions and disputes. Mr. Weslow joins the firm from the DC office of Sutherland Asbill & Brennan.

Managing partner Richard E. Wiley said, "We are very happy to welcome David to the firm. His considerable expertise in IP and technology related matters will add to our already existing and extensive capabilities."

With a strategic focus on new technologies and dedicated specialists in patent, copyright and trademark law, Wiley Rein's Intellectual Property Group has built a strong track record of notable successes. Chambers USA rates the group as one of Washington, DC's best, and, in its inaugural rankings of the nation's law firms, U.S. News & World Report rated the group among the best in the nation, a recognition that reflects the group's notable work for high-profile clients across a range of industries, including communications, Internet, semiconductors and pharmaceuticals.

Mr. Weslow received his J.D., with honors, from the University of Maryland School of Law, where he was the articles editor of the Maryland Law Review. He received his B.A. from Elon College. Mr. Weslow can be reached at 202.719.7525 or dweslow@wiley.law.
