Washington, DC — Jan Baran, co-chair of Wiley Rein's Election Law & Government Ethics Practice, and Caleb P. Burns, partner in the Practice, will speak at today's National Association of Business Political Action Committees (NABPAC) 2017 PAC Management Conference and 40th Anniversary Celebration. The biennial, one-day conference will be held at the Washington Marriott at Metro Center. The conference begins with breakfast at 8:00 a.m. and concludes with a networking reception from 5:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m.

The program will kick off with a welcome and presentation of the 2017 award for The George Washington University's (GWU) Jan Baran/NABPAC Scholarship for PAC studies. This year, the scholarship will be awarded to Mary Beth Spencer, manager of Government Affairs at the Health Industry Distributors Association. The annual scholarship provides a $5,000 fund for a student who is working, or intends to work, in the field of PACs or campaign fundraising, and who is also enrolled in GWU's PACs and Political Management graduate certificate program.

The conference will include a comprehensive and talented group of speakers and facilitators from the PAC and political affairs communities. This year's program includes more group breakout sessions where best practices and innovative new ideas can be discussed with colleagues and peers. Mr. Baran will speak on the panel, "Building Your PAC Infrastructure: Ground Up & Top Down Ideas," as part of the Corporation Track Topics session. Mr. Burns will speak on the panel, "Prior Approval: Taming the Beast Once and for All," as part of the Association Track Topics session. Both panels begin at noon.

NABPAC, a 501(c)(6) nonprofit trade association, was founded in 1977 and is the sole national organization dedicated to promoting, defending, and professionalizing PACs and political action professionals. NABPAC provides educational workshops, annual conferences, informative publications, and peer-to-peer advising to PAC and grassroots professionals. Membership consists of over 700 PAC and government affairs professionals from more than 215 corporations, associations, and vendors throughout the country.

Wiley Rein has one of the premier election law practices in the country, recognized by Chambers USA as "the gold standard in this business." The Group, led by Mr. Baran and former FEC Chairman Michael E. Toner, represents more than 300 U.S. and foreign corporations and trade associations, as well as individuals, elected officials, campaign committees, political party committees, and other political organizations. Mr. Baran also serves as longtime counsel for NABPAC's Legal Hotline, which was established in 1987.
