

Wiley's International Trade Practice Named Finalist in Fastmarkets Global Awards for Steel Excellence

June 5, 2020

Washington, DC – Wiley Rein LLP was named one of three finalists for “Legal Services Provider of the Year,” in the 11th Annual Fastmarkets Global Awards for Steel Excellence. This is the fourth consecutive year that Wiley was named a finalist for this highly competitive award. The 2020 list includes 90 finalists in 23 categories located in North America, Europe, the Middle East, and Asia.

“This year’s finalists demonstrate that excellence transcends countries and continents,” said Alex Harrison, Fastmarkets editorial and pricing director, metals and mining. “Cutting-edge innovation exists in every corner of the world and showcases international talent and customer centric solutions.”

Nominations are reviewed and evaluated by Fastmarkets editors and steel industry professionals using a point-based qualitative approach to determine the finalists. The winners will be announced at the Fastmarkets Global Awards for Steel Excellence dinner, tentatively scheduled for October 2020.

Wiley’s International Trade Practice includes more than 50 people, including some 30 lawyers, dedicated international trade advisors, economic analysts, and former U.S. government officials. While best known for traditional trade policy work, the Wiley team has transformed the engagement of trade remedy proceedings for the U.S. steel industry with new and innovative proceedings. The practice has an excellent record of winning large, complex, and high-profile antidumping and countervailing duty cases on behalf of major U.S. industries, including
