February 19, 2020

In this episode of Wiley's 5G Roadmap podcast series, we dive into the opportunity and perils of government investment in and purchase of tech and services in a 5G future. Brian Walsh, Tracie Howard, Megan Brown and Hap Rigby from Wiley's national security, telecom, and government contracts practices cover current events, congressional action, R&D grants, and contracting that will be part of the United States' 5G strategy.
