

Cyber in 2022: What Happened and What is Coming

Wiley Connected
January 20, 2022

In the inaugural episode of Wiley's 2022 Privacy & Cyber Series, Wiley partner Megan Brown and special counsel Lyn Brown, who recently joined Wiley from the FBI, discuss cyber trends that picked up speed in 2021 and offer insights into what is coming in 2022 for the private sector including:

- * Ransomware and the sectors that are most at risk
- * How the government is responding to ransomware and other threats
- * How government is trying to increase cooperation with partners around the world
- * Public/Private partnerships and impending regulation
- * Civil Cyber Fraud Initiatives at DOJ And more
