

Mobile World Congress: A Discussion on 5G and the Future of the Mobile Industry

Wiley Connected
March 20, 2019

Practice Areas

Telecom, Media & Technology

In this episode of Wiley Connected, Wiley Rein attorneys Scott Delacourt and Jacquelynn Ruff discussed their takeaways from the recent Mobile World Congress in Barcelona, Spain. More than 109,000 attendees from around the world were there to see the future of the mobile industry. A major focus for industry stakeholders and government officials was the deployment of 5G and potential public policy implications.